

boost autumn networking event a success

The second boost networking breakfast, held on Wednesday 26th October, was a roaring hit with delegates who arrived despite the dark morning, cold winds and rain.

This free event boasted delegates representing local businesses from a wide variety of sectors and was a fantastic opportunity to network and to learn.

Starting at 7:30am, to ensure delegates could get back to their busy schedules by 10am, the event started with networking. Attendees were then presented with a simple but highly effective thinking model by Dave Cottrell, senior consultant at boost.

"The speaker Dave was to the point on leadership, had the credentials to back up what he said and used an example that could be taken away and used immediately in my business. Thanks for a useful learning event with a good networking opportunity thrown in," explains Philip Lord, Independent Financial Advisor.

Amidst the seafront setting at the Burlington Hotel in Worthing delegates could network whilst helping themselves to unlimited tea and coffee, as well as delicious pastries, fruit and bacon sandwiches.

'It was great to meet so many local business leaders and to showcase what boost can do,' concludes Neil Matthews, boost consultant.

The boost networking breakfast for local SMEs was a highly enjoyable experience for all who attended, and was a great way to gain some new contacts and insights. The next networking event will be on 31st January 2012.
